MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

The last three months was short of the glitter that I look forward to as Chairman of your robust company. Movement in business development has indeed been sluggish, much to my consternation, since I had reposed complete faith in my 'army' of officers.

Notwithstanding the above, I must personally congratulate Amit Kumar Srivastav and Mr Dilip Hati for their efforts in bringing in new business. I am sure that my Lieutenants across India will take inspiration from them and work constructively to further the interests of your company.

Always remember that your loyalty towards SISA can only be measured by how much you contribute in the role you play in the company and not by being a 'sincere' spectator. I have already set the targets for 2020 and will not rest till that is achieved. It is now for you to set your own timelines to ensure that you are ahead of schedule in everything that you do. "Do It Now" is the thumb rule for any success story and yours should be no exception.

I wish each one of you and your families a Very Happy and Safe Diwali. God bless you all.

"Meri SISA "

Maj. Sushil Kumar Sharma

Chairman

From the Editor's Desk

It has been our constant effort to bring you 'oven fresh' updates on all that has happened at SISA, during the past three months. The main stay of these information relate to our corporate office, which makes us appear partisan.

SISA Times should ideally mirror news from across the country, wherever we have offices. SISA tarians in Mumbai will be as much delighted to learn about the on goings in Chandigarh, as those from Kolkata, Ahmedabad or Chennai. SISA Times is the platform on which you can weave the web of connectivity for sharing information about your branch, your family or even the state where you are located.

Share your experience of working with SISA with your colleagues across the country, simply by writing a few lines. Unless you interact and share your story with others, you will never know what you are missing.

Come October and with it the season of festivals across the country. Have a great Deepawali with your colleagues, family and friends. Just remember to share a little bit of your joy, with children who go half naked, ill fed and without a home to call their own.

SMALL ARTICLE BY SUPPORT TEAM

At a time when businesses are undoubtedly following Darwin's Theory of "survival of the fittest." To survive, evolve and to sustain is the biggest question on every corporate panels draft list. It requires a well thought out strategy and a business plan which clearly outlines the short term and long term stepping points for a business to implement and establish.

SISA has definitely worked on parameters with strategic policies either moving towards short-term spiral gains followed by a revamp which it considers inevitable, considering the nature of product or consumption pattern vis a vis another company which looks at developing and brewing habits over time, evolving and expanding its footprint slowly and surely enough looking at a long-term horizon of slow turnarounds and margins.

SISA has the right intellectual resources, carefully forged alliances, product and/or service development, the creation of a strong marketplace demand and fundamentally a strong operational foundation – to reduce the risks to the business over time.

The big question that still arises is what's the one thing you could do to ensure your company is sustainable? For your business to sustain long-term growth, one must understand what makes it different from the competition. One needs to identify that why customers come to you for a product or service. Use your answer to explain to other consumers why they should do business with you.

When sustainability becomes part of your organizational central ethos, you're not only better able to sustain business growth – you're able to remain five steps ahead of the game.

SISA, a committed leader in Security Guard recruiting , CASH IN TRANSIT and other activities such as strong proven logistics provider to e commerce companies like Flipkart , Big basket everyday looks at good , new innovative approach to maximise Customer Satisfaction.

SISA has already a long sustained growth of its business and moves forward with a greater pace in the competitive environs of the Market.

Building confidence to its customers and its employees SISA has proved its mentor confidence to the Indian Society and its public.

Vive la Difference – Long Live SISA!!!!!!
